Garnet Moe

My name is Garnet Moe, I am a Christian, husband and father. Currently I work at Amalgamated Security Services Limited (ASSL) as a Regional Sales Executive. I hold a Bachelor of Science Degree in Security Administration and Management; I am a member of ASIS International through which I am a Certified Protection Professional (CPP) and a Certified Professional Investigator (CPI). I am a certified Defensive Driving Instructor and a certified OSHA consultant/trainer.

I have over three decades of experience in the Trinidad and Tobago Defence Force from which I retired in 2009, having attained the rank of Fleet Chief Petty Officer.

My passion is serving people and, in this vein, I was a member of the Lions Club; I am certified in Shelter Management and Disaster Preparedness. I have participated in several motivational sessions for youth/schools etc.

As a member of Clico Credit Union I have actively engaged in recruiting members. When I joined Assl in 2014 I continued this thrust toward recruiting which resulted in many officers becoming members of CCU.

I am an avid sports fan and in the arena of cricket, some consider me to be a 'statistician' of sorts.

Jean-Marc Griffith

Jean-Marc Griffith is no stranger to Clico Credit Union. Having been a member of CCU for the past 9 years, Jean-Marc previously served on the Supervisory Committee as its secretary during the period 2018-2019 and again as its Chairman during 2020-2021. His most recent nomination saw him elected to the Credit Union's Credit Committee.

Jean-Marc's professional career spans over a decade at the T&T Defence Force. During his tenure at the Defence Force, Jean-Marc has represented Trinidad and Tobago within the Caribbean, Europe and in Asia. He credits his military experience as having instilled in him, a high level of professionalism and experience, which he believes will enable him to continue adding value to the Credit Union and its membership.

His interest in finance saw him successfully complete the Internal Audit workshop conducted by the Cooperative Credit Union League of Trinidad and Tobago in 2018. He is also currently the Director of Community for Launchpool Ltd: a UK based digital-assets investment platform that serves customers across the globe.

The past two years has reshaped the way we all do business. Jean-Marc is keen towards utilizing new technologies within the Credit Union, in a manner that improves the speed and efficiency of the Member's experience, while meeting their ever changing financial needs. He is now offering himself for service once again, to Clico Credit Union's Board of Directors."

Keon Lyons

LEADING WRITER

Trinidad and Tobago Defence Force Coast Guard Operations

AREAS OF EXPERTISE

- Accounting for revenue, profit, and client satisfaction.
- Office management and administration not limited to Security Operations.
- Analytical assessment for future development and /or investment.
- Procurement, stores, records and risk management processes.

As a Leading Writer in the Defence Force with sixteen years of service Keon Lyons was able to navigate through various departments gathering knowledge as he succeeded in all positions he held. Concurrently he achieved his academic goals obtaining up to his Masters in Business Administration from the University of Bedfordshire. With integrity as his most prominent virtue, his tenure can attest that he is a committed team player in alignment with the credit union's philosophy to serve.

During his incumbency at the Defence Force thus far he assisted on the frontline in the coordination of the safety and security of the Fifth Summit of the Americas in Trinidad and Tobago in 2009 followed by the Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting. Mr. Lyons played a critical role in rendering his project management expertise to the acquisition of the offshore patrol vessels to the Trinidad and Tobago government. He was also a part of the team responsible for the humanitarian deployment of troops regionally to preserve and restore life and peace in St Vincent and the Grenadines, Bahamas and Dominica to name a few. He also served in the human resource department in 2013 where he was specifically tasked with the assessment and selection of candidates. Another quality that speaks to his merit is his ability to take initiative. He was able to change the daily operations of the Command Staff office; a model which is followed to this day. Currently his roles include updating the serviceability reports of the assets within the Defence Force for preparation of operational duties, managing of staff to ensure there is adequate support to achieve command's intent, implementation of policies to improve the daily operations where customer, service and server meet simultaneously.

This being the first opportunity on a board, Mr. Lyons is not new to management, leadership and team building. Along with his various accomplishments he has been able to manage a business on the side for twelve years. He has also led his community's football team from getting the team together and seeking funding to traveling abroad for competitions. Overall he has been very influential in a personal and professional capacity, always providing support and encouragement to allow others to thrive.
